Martin writes ...

An End to War

Colin Scott was a much-loved Sanderstead Team Rector (1977-84) who then served as suffragan bishop of Hulme in the Diocese of Manchester. I know he was much-loved because you have spoken of him to me. I came upon his name again recently when reading in the Church Times; and there I learned that he strongly supported non-violence and was an active member of the Anglican Pacifist Fellowship. In March this year, Dr Alan Storkey gave the first 'Colin Scott Memorial Lecture'; the Church Times (13 April, Comment) provides an edited version that is fascinating and convincing – which is why I'm highlighting it for you all now.

An End to War? Most of the West, our own government included, signs up to the mantra that evil can only be defeated by weapons and war. Indeed warfare is even labelled as 'patriotic'. But Christians need to challenge this hope placed in weapons; for, observably, weapons and wars do not work. In the 20th century, wars killed 200 million and injured many more. Through wars, millions of people are displaced. 'No-one can now win a war because it destroys all sides'.

Faith in weapons of war is ruthlessly encouraged by Arms manufacturers, who of course have a vested interest in promoting violence. Using skilled manipulation they groom, bribe and scare politicians into believing in war; and thus they make a fortune out of death and destruction. We need to challenge all aspects of 'militarism' – the faith that only war and violence can solve our problems: they do not, and they depend on maintaining an illusion, the illusion that there is no alternative. Of course there is! It's time for our world population to 'wake up to the fact that militarism is the biggest failed experiment on the planet'. Let us then shout and push for peace; for it is peace alone that promotes all forms of good among humankind (just think about it). Weapons and war ought to have been banished long ago; only the Arms companies have prevented this. On top of everything, militarism is responsible for between 5 – 10% of all carbon dioxide emissions, thus heating the planet.

So, can we put an end to war? We nearly did at the 1932 Geneva Disarmament Conference, when US President Hoover recommended a cut of one third in all weapons immediately. Most countries were for it, but the Arms companies made sure that it stalled and Hitler came to power. Dr Storkey says we can do better; and if governments won't, the people must push for it. After World War II, General Eisenhower said, "I believe that the people in the long run are going to do more to promote peace than any governments. Indeed, I think that people want peace so much that one of these days governments had better get out of their way and let them have it".

The article concludes: "Most world leaders have said that they are in favour of multilateral disarmament. They just do not do it, because the arms establishment rules it out. Yet it can be done. It requires us, as children of God, to manufacture peace".

I agree wholeheartedly. Do you? Do our politicians? Which of them promotes pacifism in their manifestos?

Introducing Will Cookson ...

Will Cookson is coming to preach at All Saints' at both 8.30am and 10am on 18 June. Will is the Dean of Fresh Expressions for Southwark Diocese, and ran the mission shaped ministry course that some of our members completed last year. Until earlier this year, when he took up the position of Dean of Fresh Expressions on a full time basis, Will was the minister of Springfield Church in Wallington, itself a fresh expression of church.

There is often some confusion as to what a fresh expression of Church is. It is a new worshipping community that comes about through reaching out to those who are not currently or have never part of a church. A fresh expression of Church needs to be both missional, reaching those who are not yet Christian, and ecclesial, forming a new expression of Church. So, setting up a congregation that meets the needs of the people of an estate is a fresh expression of Church, creating a neo-monastic community for spiritual seekers is a fresh expression of Church, a Messy Church that is aimed at being an ecclesial expression of Church and not a bridge is a fresh expression of Church. Family Fun Hour is an example of a fresh expression of church.

We look forward to hearing what Will has to say to us on 18th June.

We'll play games and eat together.

More details to come ...

Progress on 53 Glebe Hyrst

A new home for Martin and Emma.

At the April meeting of All Saints District Church Council, concern was expressed at the slow movement in organising the work required to adapt 53 Glebe Hyrst; after all the house was purchased back in July last year. DCC asked Mike Fixter to see if he could help the Property department in any way.

Following that meeting, you will be pleased to read that the builders actually began the work about three weeks ago, and are really getting on with it. As I write, there is still a fair amount to do, but the builders are hoping to complete it all on schedule. I can't tell you when all will be ready for us to move; but we are still hoping it will be before my sabbatical starts in September. Thank you from both of us for all your support and encouragement.

Spotlight on ...

Each month, we'd like to shine spotlight on one of the things we do in the parish.

It could be a group that meets regularly, or a particular person. Alice would love to hear from you if you would like your group or congregation to be featured here in future.

... All Saints' Toddler Groups

What are the All Saints' Toddler Groups?

The Toddler Groups are open to all young families on Tuesday and Friday mornings in the church halls.
At least 50-60 families come each week to our Toddler Groups.

Is there a chance to talk with young families?

Yes, young parents often need an understanding ear, particularly when little one is going through a difficult patch.

Is more help needed from All Saints' congregation?

Yes, very much so. Toys need to be mended, cleaned, put out and put away. Refreshments need to be bought, served, washed up and put away.

Would it be good to have an activity table?

Yes, but with present levels of volunteers this is not possible.

Do the Groups cost the Church anything?

No, in fact since November 2010 the groups have given £17,500 to the Church Hall fund and £5,500 to local charities.

Why do so few of these families come to Church on Sundays?

They meet very few All Saints people and a handbill advertising an activity in Church is not the same as hearing about it from lots of people. Some do come to Family Fun Hour, and consider this monthly service to be their church.

Thank Heavens for the wonderful volunteers that do come.... please do consider whether you could get to know these young families and show what a friendly and loving place All Saints' is .... perhaps they will then come and join us on a Sunday?

Give it a go!!! .... Speak to Jeremy.

Martin's Sabbatical

In the April Newsletter I let you know that the bishop has granted me a three month period of sabbatical. I have been in contact with the Diocese of Europe, whose bishop always has vacancies for priests willing to do 'locum chaplaincies'. Sometimes, a permanent chaplain needs holiday cover; other times, there is an interregnum; some chaplaincies are seasonal, e.g. in some popular resorts.

When I was speaking with them on the 'phone the other day, I was offered quite a wide choice, including: Crete, Izmir, Bonn / Cologne, Marseilles, Pau and Versailles. As I write, we haven't yet decided!

Otherwise, I intend to do some study in the Old Testament, especially on what the people were hoping for from God at the time of Jesus. As I asked last time, Emma and I will be grateful for your prayers for the Lord's guidance for this time.

All this will give Jeremy the opportunity to 'step up' and be 'in charge' for a few months. I'm sure you will support and encourage him.
